CELEBRATE!

The scene at Boston's State Room was set with dramatic views of the Boston skyline and sumptuous decor created by Winston Flowers as New England's residential design community came together for the ninth annual New England Design Hall of Fame gala.

Following a spirited cocktail hour complete with signature cocktails and a photo booth, guests settled in for dinner, and the awards ceremony kicked off with a presentation of the 2015 New England Design Hall of Fame Scholarship Fund to the interior design program at Mount Ida College. The funds will be used to underwrite a spring 2016 Inclusive Design Symposium for the program's students, guest speakers, and design professionals. Our homes editor, Stacy Kunstel, was once again the emcee for the night, and the cheers were exuberant as she presented awards to the 2015 inductees: architects Jacob Albert, John Tittmann, Douglas VanderHorn, and Marcus Gleysteen; interior designer Charlotte Barnes; landscape architect Peter White; and stone mason/artist Lew French.
